Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Gretz (U.S. Patent 6,194,661).

The prior art discloses applicant's claimed "device" structure to include a carrier part (44), first connecting unit (17) comprising a sleeve (sleeve of 17) second connecting unit (18) comprising a guide part (guide part of 18), holding part (22), outer sleeve (sleeve portion of 18) defining a guide cavity (guide cavity of 18) and having an engagement element (54B), inner sleeve (sleeve portion of 22) having an engagement element (52B).

It appears that the guide cavity has a cross section that is longer in the longitudinal direction than in the transverse direction. However, for the sake of argument, even if that were not the case, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the shape of the guide cavity as such since it has generally been recognized that a change in the shape of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Dailey, 357 F.2d 669, 149 USPQ 47 (CCPA 1966) and further since there would be no unexpected result from such modification.

As detailed above, the suggested prior art structure is substantially identical to the claimed structure such that the PTO must presume claimed functions/properties to be inherent, thus presenting a prima facie case and properly shifting the burden to prove otherwise with evidence to the applicant. It is fairly the applicant's burden to obtain and test the prior art since the Patent Office is unable to manufacture or obtain prior art products. Mere allegation that the prior art does not inherently possess applicant's claimed functions/properties is not sufficient without actual evidence proving as much. See the following:

MPEP §2112.01 (I);

In re Ludtke, 441 F.2d 660, 664, 169 USPQ 563, 566 (CCPA 1971);

In re Brown, 459 F.2d 531, 535, 173 USPQ 685, 688 (CCPA 1972);

In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1255, 195 USPQ 430, 433-34 (CCPA 1977);

In re King, 801 F.2d 1324, 1327, 231 USPQ 136, 138 (Fed. Cir. 1986);

In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 709, 15 USPQ2d 1655, 1658 (Fed.Cir. 1990);

In re Schreiber, 128 F.3d 1473, 1478 44 USPQ2d 1429, 1432 (Fed.Cir.1997)

In view of the case law above, it is clear that applicant cannot obtain patentability for a “device” merely by claiming details of a “cable” and “base” intended to be used therewith; at least not without testing prior art “devices” and providing evidence proving incapability of such function therein. Since it is the applicant, not the PTO, who is endeavored in the making and using of “devices”, the burden of such testing lies fairly with the applicant. Furthermore, such testing should not be limited to the “cables” and “bases” recited in the “device” art but rather include all possible cables and bases reading on applicant's claimed function.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
